

Summer Barbecue at The Elvetham Hotel

The Elvetham is a stunning 19th Century Gothic mansion with 35 acres of beautiful grounds and gardens, located at Hartley Wintney within a fifteen-minute drive of both the M3 and M4 and only 40 miles from London.

We have organised a 964 Register meet and barbeque at the Elvetham on 30th August 2009 and would like to gauge interest.

Weather permitting we would have a barbeque during the afternoon; the price would be £15.00 per head - Including chicken drumsticks with BBQ sauce, Lincolnshire sausages, Caramelised onions, 'Home made' beef burgers, relishes, sauces and mayonnaise, Vegetarian sausages, Vegetarian kebabs and satay sauce and a selection of five salads.

If you are interested in coming along can you please indicate the number of people attending on the Doodle page here along with your need for Sunday overnight accommodation. Double rooms are available at £75 or £95.

Since the date coincides with the Belgian Grand Prix at Spa Francorchamps, a large screen TV may be available.

We have arranged that we can have Porsche parking in front of the house where there will be some wonderful photograph opportunities.

The postcode of the Elvetham is RG27 8AR and more details can be found on their web site at <http://www.elvethamhotel.co.uk/>
